let's make our school violence free schools are delivering better quality education by addressing domestic violence, saying no to corporal punishment and using positive disciplining techniques

Students can monitor each other and discourage violence.

Teachers and students make ground rules together

Conduct workshops on domestic violence with teachers, parents and children

Encourage girls and boys to adopt gender neutral roles

We focus on correcting behaviour and helping children learn

Our school has a clear written policy. We never use shame or fear or violence

Freedom from violence. Join the movement
